

June 18, 2013

Sneak Peeks: 15 Central Park West

Steel magnate Leroy Schecter's full-floor 15 Central Park West pad has five bedrooms, five bathrooms, and a floorplan that basically exemplifies floorplan porn. He's dropped the asking price to $85 million, and is also considering renting it out for $120K/month. But despite some stellar views included in the CORE listing, we hadn't seen any interior shots of this blockbuster—until today, when New York Magazine's real estate scion J. Johanna Robledo took us inside. It's unfurnished, but there are lots of big windows, built-in shelving, and elegant light fixtures. The glass-walled shower with a view looks particularly suh-weet.