

May 3, 2012

Walker Exhibit Extended Through May

CHELSEA—Bummed you missed the "Ralph Walker: Architect of the Century" exhibit inside his West 18th Street building currently undergoing condo-ification? Good news! You have another month; the exhibit has been extended through the end of May. The lobby exhibit of Walker's work is open to the public, but by appointment so make arrangements in advance now that you've been granted an extension. [Curbedwire Inbox; Ralph Walker Exhibit]

LONG ISLAND CITY—Court Square's 75-unit luxury condominium building The Industry LIC has now reached the 51 percent sold mark. All of the 1, 2, and 3BR penthouses have already been sold. Remaining studios, 1BRs, and 2BRs, start at $414,750, $462K, and $749K, respectively.