

Best Place of the Week: Sleek retreat in the heart of Chelsea

(July 15, 2011) This 1,600-square-foot two-bedroom at 116 W. 22nd St. is refined and with a modern edge. Highlights include a spa-like bathroom in the master suite, and a large kitchen and dining area that can be used for entertaining. The second bedroom has been converted into a study/entertainment room with dark wood paneling. It's on the market for $2,295,000.

The seller is producer Charlie Corwin and his wife, Olivia. Corwin is behind films "The Squid and the Whale" and "Half Nelson," as well TV shows "Miami Ink" and "Swamp People." His wife is a fashion and accessories designer.

Maybe the couple's creative bent will rub off on the new buyers.

