UPPER EAST SIDE

By VICTOR WISHNA

$3.35 MILLION

If you're looking for a place to "channel" your inner Upper East Sider, may we suggest this impressive condo in the Channel Club. Set on a high floor above East 86th Street, this "family" apartment is a four-bedroom home, with an additional home office, spread out among 2,600 square feet. There are exposures in all four directions, as well as three separate terraces that offer views of the East River and the skyline. The renovated kitchen has all the new fixings, including a Sub-Zero refrigerator and Thermador ovens. Oh, and there's a "full-sized" laundry room – just like the kind you might find in a real house!
