

Live Blogging Event Tonight, 9pm ET: Selling New York with Agent Maggie Kent

Posted by Elana Safronsky Wednesday, September 15, 2010

The Blog goes on! (sorry). Tonight, along with watching Episode 2 of Selling New York at 9pm ET, you can also chat live with agent Maggie Kent of CORE, who will be attempting to let an inflated seller down easy.

The property in question is a humongous loft all tricked out in extra special bells and whistles (modular wall, restaurant grade kitchen), but is anyone willing to pay a premium for it? See Maggie take the high road over slapping the seller with a "what the heck are you thinking!" while we all enjoy the show on our live blog (watch with your laptop)! Maggie will be happy to fill in some blanks so don't hesitate to ask her your questions.
