

September 20, 2019

Kim Kardashian and Kanye West's former NYC apartment is on sale for $4.7 million — look inside

Kim Kardashian and Kanye West's former New York City apartment is on the market for $4.7 million.

The modern, 2,427-square foot home, located in Manhattan's Soho neighborhood, was featured in Vogue and Elle Décor. It was designed by famous Italian architect Claudio Silvestrin. Two neighboring apartments were combined to create the current layout, according to the listing.

"The whole space is really special," listing agent Emily Beare of CORE told CNBC Make It. "I really think it is all about the calm spa like feel the apartment evokes."

Take a look inside.

The space has 10-foot ceilings and an open floor plan. The living and dining spaces have views of north and east Manhattan.

Tim Waltman/Evan Joseph Images for CORE

Tim Waltman/Evan Joseph Images for CORE

Tim Waltman/Evan Joseph Images for CORE

Tim Waltman/Evan Joseph Images for CORE

The kitchen has a stone island, pear-wood cabinetry, limestone flooring and high-end appliances.

Tim Waltman/Evan Joseph Images for CORE

The space has one bedroom, but “could easily be converted to include another,” says Beare, and one-and-a-half bathrooms, which have in-floor heating.

Tim Waltman/Evan Joseph Images for CORE

Tim Waltman/Evan Joseph Images for CORE

Tim Waltman/Evan Joseph Images for CORE

There is also a lot of closet space.

Tim Waltman/Evan Joseph Images for CORE