What $5,000 rents in NYC right now

See what you can get for $5,000/month in neighborhoods like the East Village, Fort Greene, and Midtown

Welcome to Curbed Comparisons, a weekly column that explores what one can rent for a set dollar amount in various NYC neighborhoods. Is one man's studio another man's townhouse? Let's find out! Today, we're looking at apartments renting around $5,000/month.

Core.

↑ This 932-square-foot condo on the Upper West Side is renting for an even $5,000/month. The space has been renovated and features oversized windows that let in lots of sunlight, an open living/dining room, a large windowed kitchen, one spacious bedroom, a full bathroom, and a washer/dryer. Perhaps the best feature is the 500-square-foot terrace.
