Welcome back to The Six Digit Club, in which we take a look at a newish-to-market listing priced under $1 million, because nice things sometimes come in small packages. Send nominations to the tipline.

Located on the top floor of a six-story co-op building in Jackson Heights, this bright, move-in ready apartment is now on the market for $538,500. The one-bedroom, one-bathroom home recently underwent a renovation and now comes with a spacious living room and an open-plan kitchen.

The kitchen comes with an island that seats three; a host of stainless steel appliances including a refrigerator, a stove with a hood, and a dishwasher; a good amount of cabinet and counter space, and a tile backsplash.

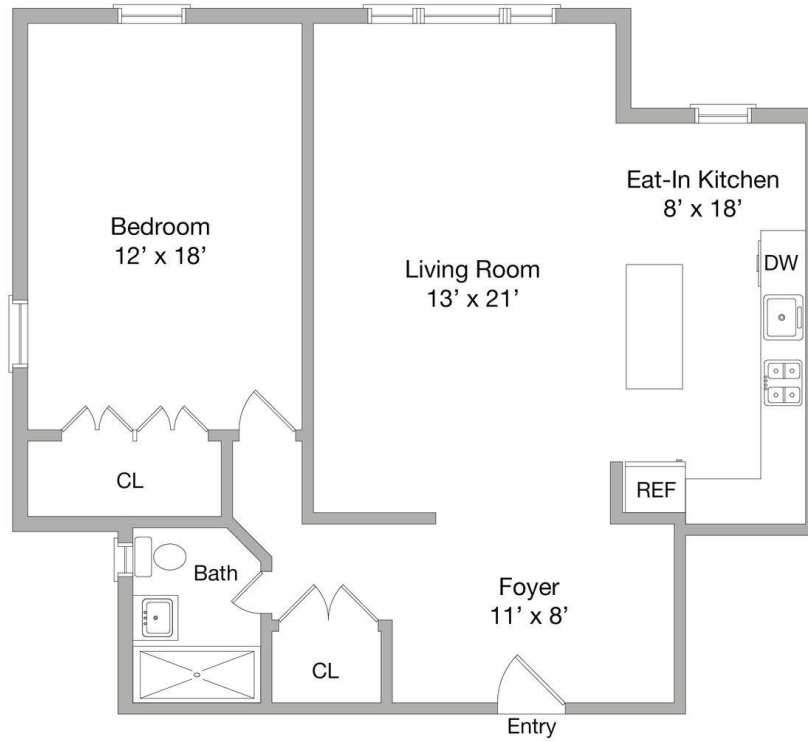

The windows in the kitchen and the living room look out on to the lush interior courtyard of the co-op building—one of the many such co-op complexes in Jackson Heights. The chalk wall surrounding the entrance to the apartment is also a nice touch.

The bedroom has two windows, can fit a king size bed, and has a good amount of closet space as well. The adjacent bathroom comes with a glass-enclosed shower and new fixtures. In all, the apartment measures 925 square feet and has monthly maintenance charges of $755. The co-op complex has laundry on site and bike storage facilities as well.
