

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST

July 20, 2015

Artist David LaChapelle Lists His Chic Chelsea Apartment

Avant-garde artist David LaChapelle puts his lovely parlor-level apartment up for sale.

New York-based artist David LaChapelle's beautiful parlor-level apartment is for sale. Floor-to-ceiling bay windows allow natural light to shine into the living area through the neighborhood's tall trees.

Contacts: Heather L. McDonough, 646-780-5261, and Henry Hershkowitz, 646-780-5260, of CORE; corenyc.com

STATS 1 BEDROOM 1 BATH 1,200 SQ. FT. $2.5 MILLION
--

A wood-burning fireplace centers the living area. The artwork above the red-granite mantel is from LaChapelle's "Earth Laughs in Flowers" series.

The sleek open kitchen is outfitted with luxurious marble surfaces and simple white cabinetry.

A Sub-Zero refrigerator and a Wolf cooktop are among the kitchen's discreetly installed top-of-the-line appliances.

The apartment's 12-foot ceilings have allowed LaChapelle to turn the dining room into a gallery-like space.

A charming patio area.

The bedroom's decorative ceiling and dark wood flooring reflect the property's historic status.

The shower in the handsome master bath is clad in marble tile.

The apartment is conveniently located close to the popular High Line elevated park and the Chelsea Market shopping center.