

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST

May 18, 2016

Vanessa Carlton Is Renting Her SoHo Loft for $15,500 a Month

Will you be making your way downtown?

This New York loft comes with not one but two pianos—and they belong to singer-songwriter Vanessa Carlton, who happens to be the one renting out the apartment. Built in 1910, the building in Manhattan's SoHo neighborhood was converted into lofts in 1998. An elevator opens directly into this unit's windowed foyer. The industrial-meets-bohemian interiors include east, west, and north exposures, wide-plank wood flooring, and exposed brick walls. In the great room, which has original iron columns and beams, a wall of windows overlooks Lafayette Street. There's also an open chef's kitchen, a spacious dining area, two bedrooms, and two baths, one of which has a claw-foot tub.

Stats

2 Bedrooms

2 Baths

2,500 sq. ft.

$15,500 per month

A view of the SoHo building, which was constructed in 1910.

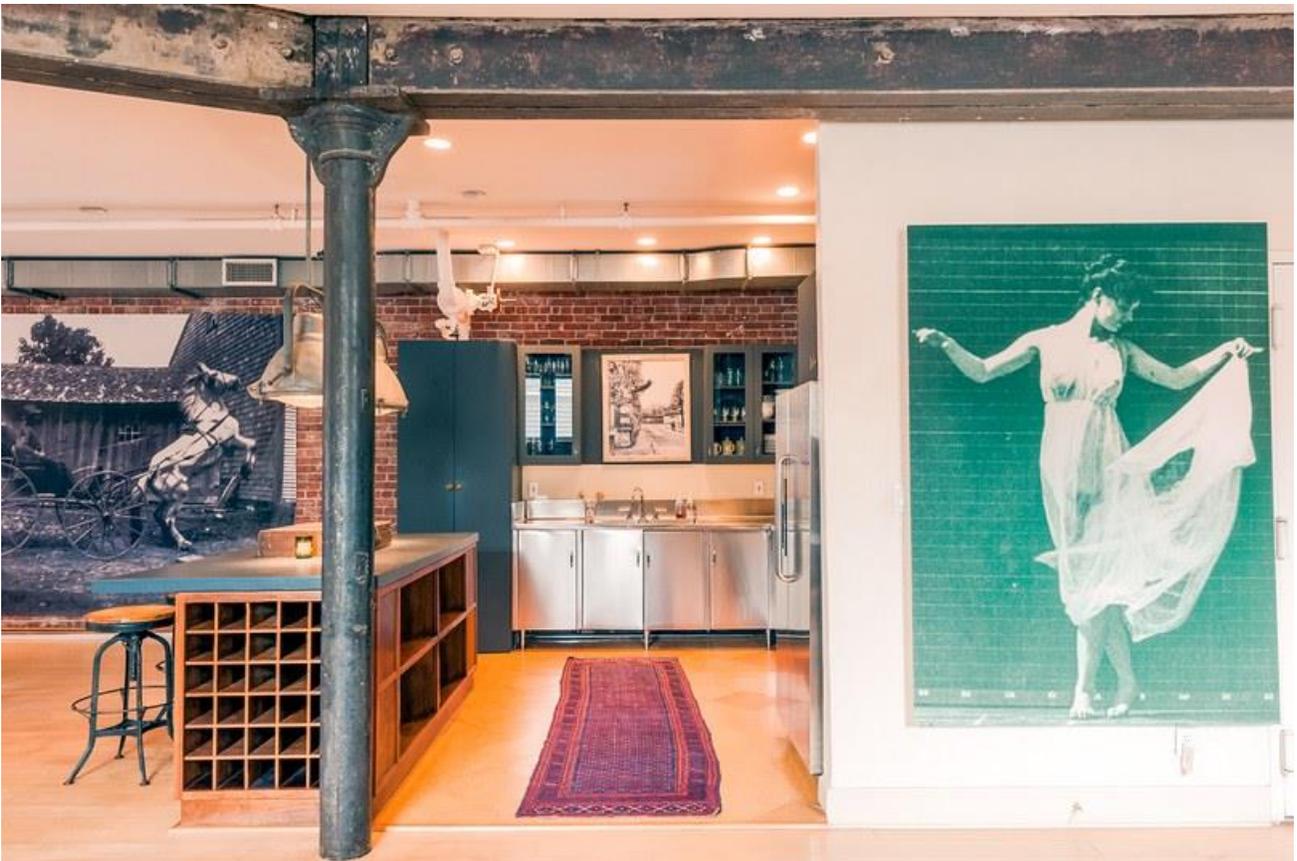

The apartment has industrial exposed brick walls.

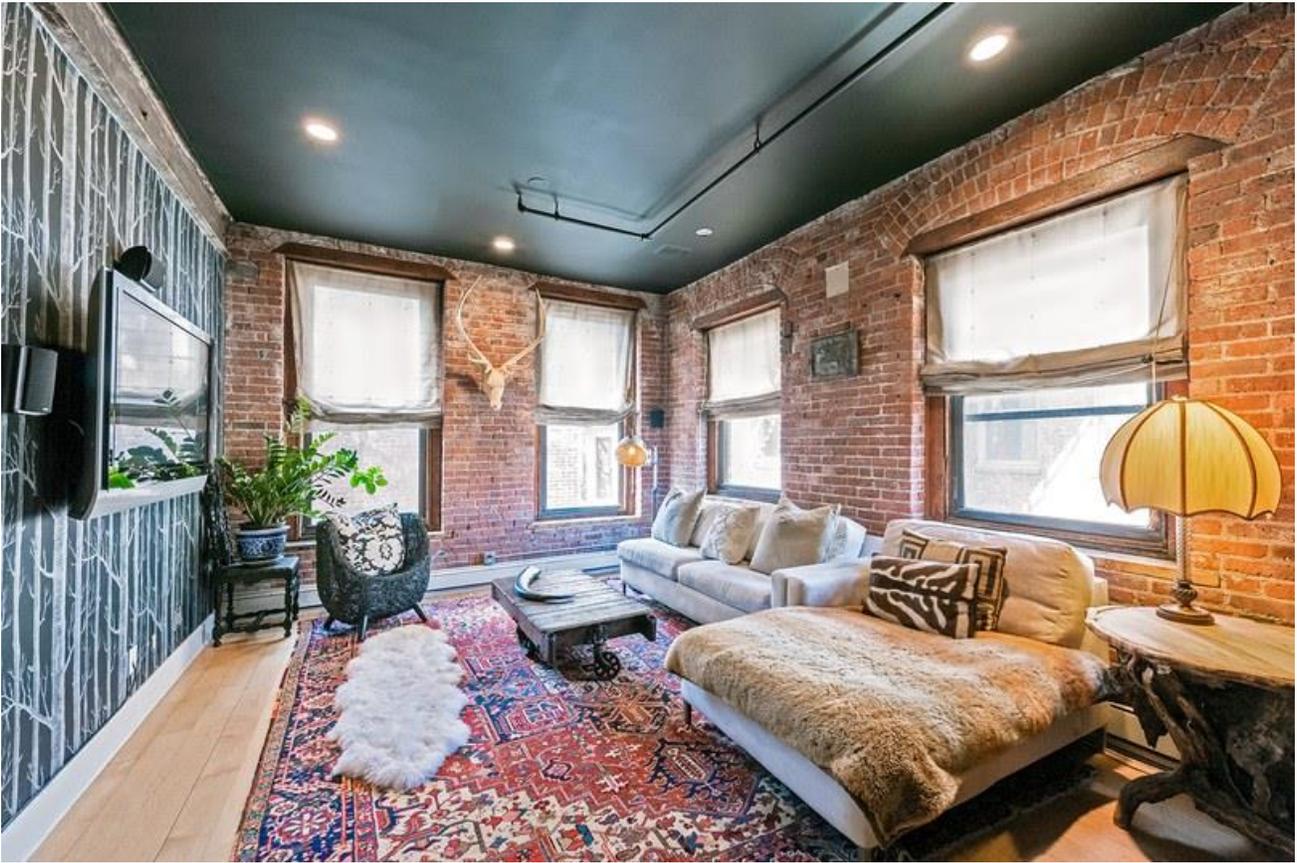

There's a spacious dining area.

There's a chefs kitchen.

Original iron columns and beams lend character to the great room.

The second bedroom can double as a den.

The guest bath has a classic claw-foot tub.