The Real Estate ARTISTS

It couldn't be more black and white. Manhattan's real estate superstars always know how to play their roles as market movers and shakers to the hilt. Real estate is the language that these leading lights speak. In any era—silent or talkie, and they all deserve an Oscar for their performances in the most exciting market in the world. Here they are, in AVENUE's own take on the Academy Award-winning film presented to you . . . with pleasure. And now we present them to you . . . with pleasure.
