

BRICK UNDERGROUND

Real Estate. Real Life. Real New York.

March 17, 2017

Six homes with fireplaces, because winter's not done with us yet

Just when you thought you could safely store your Canada Goose and Sorels, it snows and sleet. Instead of grumbling about the lack of spring-like weather, embrace the winter season one last time and snuggle up by a roaring fire. These homes with fireplaces will do you fine.

Core

This contemporary fireplace, located off the kitchen of a four bedroom, five-and-a-half-bath townhouse at 223 East 62nd Street (asking price: $9.4 million) will appeal to those with more modern sensibilities.

Core

Finally, for those willing to brave the cold, this three-bedroom, three-bath penthouse condo at 211 East 13th Street (on the market for $4.895 million) includes a private landscaped terrace with an oversized granite woodburning fireplace that may just make you forget the weather—at least temporarily.