DONE DEALS

Adrian's a glass act

CORE's Adrian Noriega just sold an ultra-modern loft at Philip Johnson's Urban Glass House in Soho for $1.635 million.

The split-bedroom home has two bathrooms and a powder room, French white oak herringbone wood floors, and floor-to-ceiling windows.

Sliding pocket-doors give the owner the choice of creating more intimate space or opening up to a flow of natural light.

The open kitchen is finished with top-of-the-line stainless steel appliances and is the perfect setting for entertaining. The luxurious master bath offers a soaking tub and separate shower.

Amenities include a 24-hour doorman, fitness center, a superintendent and a bicycle room.

The apartment was on the market for just 14 weeks. Jackie Kurtz from Warburg Realty brought in the buyer.
