Bailey House Gala & Auction

Tom Postilio and Mickey Conlon Hosting the Bailey House Gala Auction

Tom Postilio and Mickey Conlon, stars of HGTV's Selling New York and leaders in New York real estate with CORE hosted the Bailey House Gala & Auction at Pier 60 at Chelsea Piers on March 27. The Gala honored the heroism of individuals and organizations that help further the Bailey House mission of providing housing and services for people living with HIV/AIDS and advocating on their behalf. Honorees included: Jason Sheftell, a respected real estate correspondent who changed hearts and minds through his moving articles about Bailey House in The Daily News and whose award will be accepted by his mother, Karen Sheftell, in memory of her late son; longtime Bailey House supporter Betsy Lawrence for her commitment to the success of Bailey House's new Behavioral Health Center; Carver Federal Savings Bank, for helping Bailey House ensure the well-being of the East Harlem community through Bailey House's nutrition assistance program; and State Senator Brad Hoylman, State Assembly Member Robert Rodriguez and VOCAL-NY for their efforts to pass the 30percent Rent Cap legislation for people living with HIV/AIDS.
