

July 27, 2016

Kelsey Grammer Lists $9.75M Pad In Jean Nouvel's West Chelsea Condo

The semi-circular space is highlighted by its amazing 100 feet of Hudson River frontage

Kelsey Grammer, actor and star of TV sitcoms like 'Frasier' and 'Cheers,' is looking to part ways with his plush West Chelsea home, reports the Observer.

Grammer purchased the 3,076 square foot apartment within Jean Nouvel's wind-troubled 100 Eleventh Avenue tower back in 2010 amidst, let's just say personal turmoil, that drove him from his 15 Central Park West home. He and new wife Kayte Walsh moved into the home shortly thereafter and seem to have stayed put since but now they claim to have "outgrown" the space and are seeking $9.75 million for the three-bedroom, three-and-a-half bathroom abode.

The semi-circular space is highlighted by its amazing 100 feet of Hudson River frontage and offers up 11-foot ceilings, en-suite baths, a living room wet bar, gas-burning fireplace, ample storage space, and its conveniently close proximity to the High Line.