

September 4, 2012

NY Daily News is Taking Note of NoMad New York

The NY Daily News has caught on to how hot NoMad New York is. Last month, they highlighted the dining experience at the NoMad. They stated that “the NoMad can make one feel chosen, like there is perhaps no more desirable place to be in New York.”

Days ago, the NY Daily News ran a story called “Ask a Broker.” This featured an interview with highly successful real estate broker Jarrod Guy Randolph. Randolph was recently featured in Forbes “30 under 30” list for real estate. He has also appeared on HGTV’s “Selling New York.”

When asked about the next hottest neighborhood in NYC, Randolph had one answer: NoMad New York! Randolph went on to state, “Ace Hotel, the Gansevoort, the NoMad and Eataly. If you build it, they will come. I’ve been telling developers for the last five years that is the place to be. It’s literally in the center of the city.”