

March 15, 2013

Lady Gaga Moving Into This Luxury NYC Condo?

Lady GaGa is looking for a new apartment in New York.

The Born this Way singer is currently recovering from an operation to repair a labral tear on her right hip last month but has been keeping herself busy by looking for a home in the Manhattan area.

According to the New York Post, Gaga went to view this $5.95 million penthouse at The Link on 52nd Street and has also had a look at a pad at The Park Imperial building which boasts panoramic views of Central Park classed as some of the best in Manhattan. HGTV's Selling New York stars Tom Postilio and Mickey Conlon have the listing.

Residents at The Park Imperial have included rapper P. Diddy and Deepak Chopra – the alternative medicine guru who was a long-time friend of Michael Jackson.

The 26-year-old pop superstar is a proud New Yorker and has stated many times that she doesn't want to ever leave her hometown.

