Patrick Lilly

CORE

Broker

Patrick Lilly holds a coveted position in the world of New York real estate as not only a top-tier producer, but a sought-after expert who has been spotlighted in books, the media and seminars. A mainstay in the industry for over 25 years, Lilly has excelled to great heights in his field thanks to his exceptional market knowledge, proven flair for successful deals and strong relationships with clients and peers alike.

Strong sales success has led Lilly to win multiple awards including, most recently, Keller Williams' "Pinnacle Award", bestowed to the top 20 agents nationally. In addition, Lilly has consistently led his team to be named to The Wall Street Journal's list of top 250 national teams of real estate agents over the past several years, where they were ranked #110 in 2012.

Originally from Maryland, Lilly earned his BS in Psychology and Mathematics from Missouri State University and a MBA in Marketing and International Business from New York University. His illustrious real estate career has encompassed an association with leading-name brokerage firms, in addition to running his own thriving boutique company, Patrick Lilly Inc., which he operated for 10 years.
