

THENATIVESOCIETY®

Tell Us Your Native Story.

October 25, 2015

Limor Neshor: Licensed Real Estate Salesperson, CORE

Bio:

Limor Neshor serves as a Licensed Real Estate Salesperson at CORE and utilizes a unique approach in serving her clients that combines her signature charisma, illustrious energy and impeccable attentiveness. In understanding the emotional connection her clients have to real estate, Limor ensures that each transaction is handled with personalized guidance and dedicated professionalism. She strives to provide honest and direct service, and enjoys finding creative and unique ways to meet the needs of each individual client. Having accrued almost a decade of experience in real estate, Limor has a concrete knowledge of the New York City real estate market, as seen in her several television appearances on ABC's Good Morning America, Selling New York, Fox News and Yahoo.

23 South William St, PH

With an educational background in fashion and art, she is able to employ creative tactics in marketing her clients' properties. She also utilizes her creative abilities in helping renters, buyers and sellers to envision the architecture and design possibilities of a space. In using her industry knowledge in combination with her personalized approach and noted creative abilities, Limor has achieved a high level of industry success. Through her resources and personal network of contacts, Limor has acquired a loyal following of international and local buyers who rely on her help in making the best possible investment choices and finding their ideal home.

What do you do best?

Find creative solutions to situations.

What makes you the best?

I like to learn and share knowledge. I learn something new from any situation and from every person I meet. Then I take this knowledge and find a way to embed it into every day's life.

Biggest success?

Selling a site unseen to a client from overseas, that I never met personally in an area that he did not desire but I predicted to experience a major growth - and short after proved that I was right.

What are your aspirations?

Personal: To make a meaningful and happy life for my family and collect good memories from unforgettable experiences.

Business: To make good contacts, provide the best service and help others realize their dreams/goals.

Most challenging moment?

Leaving my country and my mom to come to NY.

Favorite Motto:
"Live and let live".

Favorite People:
My family.

Favorite Places:
Tel Aviv, New York, Paris, and the beaches around the world.

Favorite Products:
Books, ice cream, white wine, fruits, pencils, music and any communication devices.

Current Passions:
Fashion design, parenthood and large scale real estate deals.

