

December 15, 2011

Gimme Shelter

Carrey Goes Big

Jim Carrey's downtown bachelor-pad hunt continues. As we previously reported, the funnyman had been looking for apartments in the $5 million to $8 million range — and now he's visiting even bigger, more lavish residences.

He recently checked out a $13.65 million townhouse at 233 W. 20th St. The Chelsea townhouse, built in 1824 and completely renovated, is 7,000 square feet, with six bedrooms and six-plus bathrooms. The home includes a grand entrance foyer, an elevator, two chef's kitchens and a solarium flanked by two terraces.

Listing brokers Tom Postilio and Natalie Rakowski of Core could not be reached for comment.