Midtown East
$6.495 million

The 3,175 square feet of space in this "spectacular" duplex penthouse at a new East 51st Street condo conversion is only half the story — or, technically, two-thirds — as there is another 1,641 square feet out on the two terraces that wrap around each level. The result, thanks to multiple points of access, is "seamless" indoor/outdoor living. And the "double-height" ceilings and "walls of glass" on the upper level also bring the outdoors in, with "glittering" views of the Manhattan skyline. The "capacious" layout features three bedrooms, three en-suite bathrooms (plus two half-baths), a "luxurious" kitchen and a living room with a "soaring" fireplace.
