

NEW YORK POST

March 28, 2013

'Modern' Living

Sofia Vergara has been house hunting for her own “modern family” in New York. One place the sexy television star checked out was a “loft-like” penthouse duplex at 301 E. 52nd St. The five-bedroom, three-bathroom co-op was asking $4.495 million but is now in contract with another buyer. It comes with a 1,400-square-foot set-back terrace. Along with 10-foot ceilings and 50 feet of custom solarium windows, there’s a sunken living room with a woodburning fireplace. The listing broker, Core’s Jeffrey Smith, declined to comment.

