

December 16, 2011 | Gina Pace

Best Place of the Week: 220 Riverside Boulevard

This nearly 3,000-square-foot condo in Trump Place has river views from every room.

“There is a wonderful foyer you walk down and then the element of surprise — suddenly you turn the corner and in front of you are these walls of windows overlooking the Hudson,” said CORE’s Emily Beare, who has the listing. “You see the George Washington Bridge to the right, and you can see through the kitchen and see a beautiful view to the left. Wherever you are in the apartment, you see amazing views.”

The large eat-in kitchen is in a window-walled corner, and gives the feeling that you are floating above the river.

Another perk: The master bedroom and study are on one side of the apartment, and two bedrooms are on the other, creating a separation that is ideal for families.

EXPLORE: Apartments for sale/rent on the upper West Side

The home is at 220 Riverside Boulevard in Trump Place, only two blocks from Broadway's shops and subway. It lists for $5.95 million.

RELATED: Ask a broker: RealDirect's Neila Deen

Published on Friday, December 16th 2011, 12:24 PM

By Gina Pace

Category: Local