Chelsea $5.95 million

This floor-through condo on West 19th Street is truly an open space — all 2,400 square feet of it is “column-free,” allowing for a “flexible” layout with two, three or four bedrooms. Occupying the entire 10th floor, the apartment also has a 25-foot-long den with “floor-to-ceiling” windows, 2 1/2 bathrooms, an open kitchen and a dressing area with six closets. Plus, there’s a private, 48-foot-long terrace with “spectacular views.” The building itself offers access to a planted roof deck.
