

September 17, 2013

Where Do Real Estate Professionals Dine in NYC?

It's no secret that NYC is home to some of the best restaurants in the world. With so many diverse options, choosing a place to eat can be overwhelming!

As real estate professionals, it's nice to know the insider spots where we can meet and network with our colleagues. Luckily, we have lots of friends in the real estate industry and we got some restaurant recommendations from some of the top players on the east coast.

Enjoy these suggestions from our friends, Wayne Heicklen, Partner of Pryor Cashman, Nick Romito, Founder of View the Space, and Shaun Osher, Founder and CEO of CORE Group as they uncover their favorite food joints in The Big Apple.

From filet mignon to fried chicken, we've covered all our bases!

Shaun Osher's Picks (Founder and CEO of CORE Group)

1. ABC Cocina - "The food and drinks are amazing."

2. Buttermilk Channel - "Good luck finding better fried chicken (and amazing drink list)."

3. Bobo's - "Quiet and private (with great food)."

4. Nobu Next Door - "Best sushi anywhere in town."

5. Miss Lilly's - "The best jerk chicken anywhere on the planet."

