

May 25, 2013

New York's Real Estate Power Brokers: Part I

In the first of a series, Oliver Estreich profiles New York's top realtors.

Emily and Elizabeth Beare

Mother and daughter duo Emily and Elizabeth Beare work together at CORE and are considered “go-to specialists for clients seeking to navigate the Manhattan luxury residential sector.”

Before becoming involved in the world of real estate, Emily Beare ran a successful watch business and had a career in trading gold on the commodities exchange.

Elizabeth Beare worked in fashion and public relations prior to joining her mother and brother, David, at CORE as a Sales Associate. She is said to be “business savvy,” has a great “flair for design” and currently lives in Greenwich Village.

Emily and Elizabeth Beare's current listings include 407 East 75th Street, Upper East Side, New York – $12,500,000

- A 25-foot wide, four-story 8,475 square foot townhouse that was originally built as a carriage house.
- Accommodation includes 6 bedrooms and 9 bathrooms.
- Previously owned by a world-renowned photographer, the property also includes an all-white gallery space, a light-filled private studio and a basement darkroom.
- Landscaped garden and terrace.