Zachary Quinto Buys $3.1 Million Manhattan Love Nest

The actor and his longtime beau are settling down in New York City after selling their Los Angeles home.

He may be the latest villainous boyfriend on HBO's Girls, but Zachary Quinto isn't settling down in Brooklyn like his TV counterpart.

That's right — the dapper actor, who recently starred as Ace the toothbrush-chewing creep who hooks up with Jessa on Girls, is putting down roots in Manhattan.

Quinto dropped $3,162,500 on a two-bed, two-and-a-half-bath pad with his longtime love, boyfriend Miles McMillan. The couple will share the new digs with their two rescue dogs, Irish wolfhound-terrier Noah and another, much tinier terrier, Skunk.

The 2,300-square-foot unit is a large, full-floor loft with an elevator that opens right onto the entryway. Walnut floors and oversized windows complement exquisite architectural details, and a stainless steel gourmet kitchen is perfect for any amateur chef.

Basically, Quinto's new home is the picture-perfect epitome of a sleek and modernized downtown New York pad, which is ideal for a burgeoning megastar like him.

Quinto, who will be appearing on NBC's nightmare-inducing show Hannibal this season, was previously a Los Angeles resident. In 2008, he purchased a stylish pad in the uber-hip neighborhood of Los Feliz, but he sold that three-bed, two-bath Mid-Century home in November of 2014.
