Tom Postilio

By David Finkle Wednesday, May 4 2011

Many contemporary crooners understand that a large segment of the music-loving public still wants to hear the Sinatra sound. (Yoo-hoo, Michael Buble!) One astute replicator is this suave fellow who's removed himself from the local scene for a few too many years and is back tonight to show that his version of the Hoboken heartthrob is as good or better than anyone else's. He calls the outing "This Time Around," which may be his way of saying that he's bringing something more than himself back.
