

September 23, 2016

New York's latest crop of luxury residential developments

42 Crosby

A sleek seven-storey condominium designed by Selldorf Architects is going to be the newest addition to Manhattan's historic SoHo district. Keen to reflect the area's architectural context, Annabelle Selldorf used stainless steel, brushed aluminium and metal mesh to configure a crisp update to the surrounding 19th century cast-iron façades.